

USING AUDIO IN A CUSTOMIZED MENU

ABSTRACT

Methods and cameras having a menu that is customized using audio. The camera is configured to have a display and a customizable menu comprising a plurality of selectable items that respectively correspond to selected tasks or actions that may be performed. The camera is configured to have programmable speaking capabilities that 5 comprise preassigned customized descriptors for each of the selectable items. When a particular item is selected, a selected action is performed.